WATERMELON DAY, DIKE

Grundy County residents love to get out and celebrate, and there's no better place to do that than at local festivals and events. No fewer than six communities in Grundy County host summer celebrations where residents young and old gather to renew old friendships and make new ones.

Beaman's Memorial Day

Celebration kicks off festival season in late May and is followed by festivals in Conrad and Wellsburg in June, Stout Freedom Fest, Reinbeck, and Grundy Center, in July and Dike in early August.

Each annual festival features a large parade while many are built around former residents returning for class reunions. Most also feature musical entertainment from local and regional artists. Festivals in Conrad, Dike and Reinbeck are also capped by fireworks displays.

In addition, the Grundy County Museum in Morrison hosts the Pioneer Craft Fair the second Sunday of September each year. This event features displays and demonstrations of life the way it was when Grundy County was founded in the 1850s.

Holiday celebrations are also held each year between Thanksgiving and Christmas in Conrad, Dike, Grundy Center and Reinbeck.

EXPERIENCE THE GRUNDY COUNTY FAIR

Grundy County is proud to be one of both the State of Iowa and the nation's top agricultural counties. One of the ways it celebrates its agricultural heritage each year is the Grundy County Fair. The Fair features programs for both Grundy County 4-H and FFA youth, as well as events and activities that the entire family can enjoy. The 2024 fair is scheduled for July 15 to 20 at the Fairgrounds in the southeast corner of Grundy Center. Major grandstand events include coronation of the Queen and King, Family Fun Night, and a fireworks show. Throughout the remainder of the week, there will be events such as the old school Figure 8 races, rodeo, demo derby, trailer race, mud volleyball, bean bag tourney, BBQ cook off, and more. Visit the Fair for safe, family fun for all at our All-American Grundy County Fair! Also, visit the Grundy County Speedway for nightly events followed by free concerts located at our new 1851 Pavilion during Thursday-Saturday of fair week along with special events throughout the year. We also have a beautiful new campground called Fair View Campground, located directly west of the Speedway. Contact us for camping or event venue rental. The 1851 Pavilion or Alumni Building both make for beautiful wedding reception venues.

Complete fair information can be found at www. grundycountyfair.com.

Beaman is a small but mighty community of 183 residents located about 12 miles southwest of Grundy Center, two miles east of Conrad and 16 miles northeast of Marshalltown in southern Grundy County at the intersection of county roads T-29 and D-67. It is known for its popular slogan: "You're not dreamin', you're in Beaman!"

What to do: The Comet/Wolf Creek trail, which starts in Conrad and runs all the way past Wolf Creek County Park into Gladbrook, cuts through the heart of Beaman. The aforementioned county park is located about three miles east of town on 330th Street, a gravel road, and features camping (with a shelter house, electricity and water), bridges and hiking opportunities in a quiet area full of natural beauty.

Beaman hosts its town festival on Memorial Day weekend and is also home to a public library on Main Street.

Famous for its black dirt soil and fertile surrounding farmland, Conrad is a vibrant and progressive town of just over 1,100 residents situated in the panhandle of Grundy County about 15 miles southwest of Grundy Center, 13 miles north of Marshalltown and 20 miles southeast of Eldora just off of Highway 14. Conrad has been a Main Street Iowa community since 1993, and the downtown area underwent a façade renovation and revitalization project in 2013 and 2014. The city has made ma-jor progress on constructing a 50-lot housing development on the north side of town. Several new businesses have moved into the downtown area in the last few years, and buildings are still available for aspiring entrepreneurs looking to set up shop in a strong small town with a bold vision for the future."

What to do: Downtown Conrad offers a variety of shopping options and a state of the art public library built just over a decade ago. The Grundy County Freedom Rock was completed in 2016 at Gier Park across the street from the old fire station near the intersection of Main Street and Grundy Avenue, and the Comet/Wolf Creek Trail begins here before continuing east toward Beaman.

Conrad hosts Black Dirt Days each June with a host of live entertainment, inflatable fun and food stands for all ages. The Conrad Heritage Hall and Museum, located inside of city hall, is a shrine to the history of the community and contains a host of local artifacts.

As its name indicates, Grundy Center sits right in the middle of Grundy County, and it's the most populated city as well as the county seat. With nearly 2,800 residents and a host of offerings including outdoor activities, live music, delicious eateries and boutique shopping, the community truly has something for everyone.

Spend an afternoon walking around the vibrant downtown district and check out some of the historic architecture as you peruse the local shops, take a break with a coffee or a bite to eat at one of several dining establishments, or catch a movie or do some bowling at night.

What to do: Grundy Center hosts farmer's markets, concert series, and family friendly events during the summer months and is home to both Felix Grundy Days and the Grundy County Fair, which are both held in July. Grundy Center is proud of its history, and the recently renovated Herbert Quick Schoolhouse—dedicated to the late writer and Grundy County native—takes visitors on a tour of the building where he taught in the late 1800s. The Grundy Center Historical Society Museum at 610 Seventh Street is another great opportunity to learn more about the people and events that have shaped the town.

Like Conrad, Grundy Center is now a Main Street Community and a downtown façade renovation has brought a fresh new look to the historic area along G Avenue. In 2021, Grundy Center natives Matthew and Tara Bockes completed a renovation of the upper level of the former Frederick Furniture Building thanks to a state grant, creating four new apartments downtown. In addition, the Maroon and White Committee recently completed renovation of the former Upper Elementary building into the Grundy Center Preschool and Childcare Center for daycare and preschool in Grundy Center. Horseback riding is allowed along a mowed grass trail that parallels the limestone trail, while motorized vehicles and hunting are prohibited on the trail.

Every fall on the second Sunday in September, the Heritage Center hosts the Pioneer Craft Fair featuring free events and lessons on the ways of the early settlers who came to Grundy County. Favorites include beekeeping, honey, flint knapping, spinning and weaving, crocheting, timber framing, gold prospecting, butter churning and fireplace stew.

As Grundy County's second-largest community, Reinbeck, located in the southeast corner of the county just 20 miles from the Waterloo/Cedar Falls area, is a hidden gem and the home of a growing downtown district with a variety of shops and restaurants, as well as a plethora of outdoor entertainment to keep visitors busy during any season. On top of that, you'll find a variety of public art around town, a quaint and walkable downtown area and beautiful city parks.

Elmwood Park offers fun for the whole family throughout the seasons, and it features a walking trail complete with 10-station exercise equipment. Strohbehn Park, located just north of town, is a favorite for both locals and visitors alike. Black Hawk Creek runs through the park, and it's one of the best nature watching spots in all of Grundy County. The Reinbeck Greenbelt Area near Strohbehn Park is a 67-acre parcel of land with access to hunting (pheasants, rabbits and partridge), camping, fishing, archery, hiking, equestrian trails and snowmobiling.

Reinbeck hosts an annual art festival in September featuring local work, food trucks and live music, a fourth of July celebration with a parade, car show, fireman's dance and other family-friendly activities, and the annual "Miracle on Main" in November.

GRUNDY COUNTY HERITAGE MUSEUM 204 FOURTH ST, MORRISON

History: The Grundy County Heritage Museum began as an effort in 1977 to save the old Morrison Schoolhouse which had fallen into disrepair after its closure in 1953. The Grundy County Historical Society was contacted but had no interest in a museum outside of the county seat. So, a group formed for the restoration of the building and the support of a museum. This group became Historical Collections of Grundy County, a 501.3c nonprofit organization.

The brick building was leased from the City of Morrison and the many renovations began. The museum officially opened on March 15, 1979. Over the next 42 years, the 1853 William Peck log cabin was moved to the grounds and restored. The Colfax No.3 Schoolhouse, a one room country schoolhouse came a few years later. A Chicago and Northwestern Railroad caboose and motorcar were the next addition. And in 1999, the Heritage Museum and Agricultural Hall became the latest building in the complex.

The Museum recently added an Escape Room that is available by appointment. As of this writing, use of the Escape Room was free of charge. The Heritage Museum also features a meeting room available for rental.

The museum is open Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and by appointment other times.

BEAMAN HERITAGE CENTER

The Heritage Center is located within the Beaman Public Library. It pays tribute to Beaman's history with artifacts and stories about the residents of this small town.

CONRAD HERITAGE HALL AND MUSEUM

Located inside City Hall in Conrad, the Conrad Heritage Hall and Museum features local artifacts and rotating exhibits and is a shrine to the history of the community.

HERBERT QUICK SCHOOLHOUSE

This one-room schoolhouse was where Iowa author Herbert Quick received his early education. The schoolhouse was relocated from its original location to Orion Park in Grundy Center in 1933. The Schoolhouse is owned by the City of Grundy Center and supported by the Grundy Center Historical Society.

WELLS HOTEL MUSEUM

Located in Wellsburg, the Hotel Museum features artifacts and memorials from Wellsburg's past. Open June through August on Saturdays from 1 to 4 p.m.

THE 1900 FARMHOUSE

The farmhouse is modeled after a typical farm home in the 1890 to 1900 time period. The back porch door was chosen for the entry into the exhibit because it was this entrance into the house that was the most traveled by the family during the daily activities.

The typical day in the farm family's life started quite early in the morning with the wife and her daughters preparing breakfast and the husband and his sons tending to the livestock chores. Following the chores, it was time to enjoy the breakfast. The kitchen looked like this in the winter season. Another structure near the back door would have been the "summer kitchen." Summer kitchens were common structures in the late 19th century. They served a variety of purposes. In the summer months, all the cooking and baking, as well as the laundry, was done there. This was to keep the house cooler. The summer kitchen was also where all the canning and the preserving of the garden produce was done.

GRUNDY COUNTY CONSERVATION BOARD

The Grundy County Conservation Board is in charge of parks, preserves, recreational centers and wildlife and conservation areas throughout the county. The Board manages a total of 19 areas, including parks, wildlife areas, prairie remnant areas and a museum. The mission of the Grun-

dy County Conservation

Board is to enhance the quality of all life in the county by preserving, acquiring and wisely managing our cultural and natural resources, by providing recreational and leisure opportunities, and by educating the citizens to be wise and well informed stewards of the environment. Grundy County is home to three campgrounds with the addition of the new site at the fairground in Grundy Center. The popular Grundy County Lake site near Dike and the Wolf Creek County Park east of Beaman are still here and better than ever.

Whether you're looking for a short-term place to crash on your outdoor adventure or you're planning to stay for awhile, Grundy County has a site for you. At the lake in Dike, you'll enjoy easy access to Highway 20, fishing, hiking, boating, the charms of downtown Dike just down the road and the close proximity to the Waterloo-Cedar Falls metropolitan area.

In Grundy Center, you'll be just a hop and a skip away from the community's vibrant downtown and restaurant scene as well as a hospital, an aquatic center, a recreational trail and other tourist attractions. And be sure to come to town for the annual county fair in July, which is growing and expanding like never before under the leadership of an aggressive and motivated fair board.

And last but not least, the site east of Beaman along the southern border of the county may be off the beaten path (you'll have to take gravel to get there), but it's a hidden gem worth searching for. Enjoy a pristine natural woods setting with a recreational trail running through the park, and head east toward Gladbrook or back west to Beaman and Conrad on the Comet/Wolf Creek Trail. If you have questions regarding accommodations or you're just ready to camp, call the Grundy County Conservation office in Morrison at (319) 345-2688.
